FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Vincent Morris Acknowledged for Exceptional Performance

Vice President of Bukaty Retirement Plan Services is Recognized

(LEAWOOD, KS, March 26, 2007) – Vincent Morris was recently named to Linsco/Private Ledger’s (LPL Financial Services) prestigious Chairman’s Club – a status reserved for less than one percent of all advisors, based on the production ranking of all registered representatives at LPL at year-end 2006. During LPL’s Master’s Club Conference, Morris was recognized for his exceptional performance and commitment to client service.

The prestigious conference featured three speakers who are nationally renowned experts in their respective fields: Carly Fiorina, former CEO of Hewlett-Packard; Mitch Anthony, founder and president of Advisor Insights, Inc. and The Financial Planning Institute; and Terry Bradshaw, NFL legend and co-host and analyst of FOX NFL Sunday. The speakers shared valuable insights on building meaningful client relationships amid increased competition in the industry, leadership, and maintaining a balanced life while building a high-level practice.

Close to 650 LPL Financial Advisors from around the United States gathered at the Hilton Waikoloa Village on the Big Island of Hawaii and used the opportunity to network, receive recognition for their achievements and enjoy leisure time with peers. The conference was hosted by LPL to recognize its top-producing advisors for providing superior service to their clients.

“Our advisors’ enthusiasm, energy and dedication to their clients are a source of inspiration for all of us at LPL,” says Bill Dwyer, President of LPL Independent Advisor Services. “They are a great example of how hard work and a passion for service can result in a rewarding and successful career.”
